Top 100 VAR Recognition in 2012 for 9th Consecutive Year

Orange County, CA — June 8, 2012 — Collins Computing, Inc. is pleased to announce their inclusion in Bob Scott's Top 100 VARs list for 2012. This is Collins Computing's 9th consecutive year receiving this honor—emphasizing their successful track record in this industry.

Randy Forkner, President of Collins Computing, states “Our ranking on the Top 100 list is due to our many clients who trust us to solve their financial, supply chain, customer relationship management (CRM), business intelligence, and non-profit business issues. We have a dedicated team at Collins, built solely to implement, service, train, and customize the software solutions our clients need to more efficiently run their growing organizations.”

The Top 100 are chosen from organizations specializing in the sale and implementation of Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) and accounting software. The selection is based on annual revenue generated by each reseller. A special report that includes names of the organizations selected for this year's Top 100 list, ranked by revenue, is downloadable at www.bobscottinsights.com
